

Because hiring and retaining the right people is key to your company's success, the proper employee benefits package can be one of your most important incentives. And because benefits are a tax-effective form of compensation, you'll save money for your company and your employees.

Employee Benefits

Cut Costs By Increasing Employee Wellness

Our employee benefits advisors bring value in applying a unique consultative approach that helps reduce expenses, not benefits. With a thorough understanding of your operations and in-depth analysis of the employee benefits market, Van Beurden will help maximize the returns of your employee benefits investment.

Employees Can Be Very Well™

Van Beurden's Very Well Health & Wellness program reduces employee benefits and Work Comp expenses through a collaborative approach to promoting wellness in the workplace. Combining employee health assessments, personal one-on-one coaching at the work site and interactive educational tools, Very Well changes employee behaviors and improves overall employee health, contributing to a dramatically better bottom line.

With access to more carriers, Van Beurden can create a unique benefits package designed around your employees' needs and your company's budget. A basic list of offerings includes:

Individual Insurance Programs:

- Life
- Medical

Group Insurance Programs:
